Dear Mr. Trudeau:

Veterans returning from Iraq and Afghanistan may go to work for right wing extremist groups. What a surprise!

Maybe if the United States took care of them when they got back to the States they would be less tempted. Instead we destroy them and then discard them.

Getting out the information about the needs of our servicemen and servicewomen is an incredibly hard task. Eric Newhouse, Pulitzer-prize winning author of Faces of Combat, PTSD and TBI, is out there helping. So is Sgt. Andrew Brandi. Please give them a shout-out to let people know they are delivering your message.

Sincerely,

Thomas M. Blaschko
